Market expectations for H1 2008 in Europe

Europe - H1 2008

- Further improvement in stock levels due to lower production and declining imports
- Overall healthy underlying demand
- Price surge in January, further price increases expected:
 - Prices for flat products in Northern Europe remained stable or increased slightly in January/February. Further price increases of at least 50 €/t expected for Q2
 - Prices for flat products in Southern Europe increased slightly in January/February. Further price increases of at least 50 €/t expected for Q2
 - Prices for long products increased significantly in January/February. Further price increases are expected throughout Q1

Start in 2008 better than expected

Market expectations for H1 2008 in North America

North America - H1 2008

- Output was cut back significantly in November and December 2007
- No pressure from imports due to low price levels
- Low stock levels
- Slight improvement of underlying demand, especially for non-residential construction
- Dramatic jump of scrap prices in January
- Price surge in January, further price increases expected:
 - Dramatic price increases for strip products in January/February. Further price increases expected throughout Q1 and going forward in Q2
 - Prices for long products increased significantly in January/February. Further price increases expected in Q1 and Q2

Promising start in 2008

Market expectations for FY 2008

FY 2008

- Overall healthy demand development due to lower but still positive growth forecasts for 2008 in Europe and North America
- Average price level for steel products expected to be higher than recently
- Continuing lower imports from China because of rising raw material prices, high taxes and shipping costs, environmental and energy constraints as well as possible anti-dumping actions

Again positive development in 2008

Profitable growth

Profitable growth through value-added distribution and services within multi metals to companies in Europe and North America

Grow more than the market

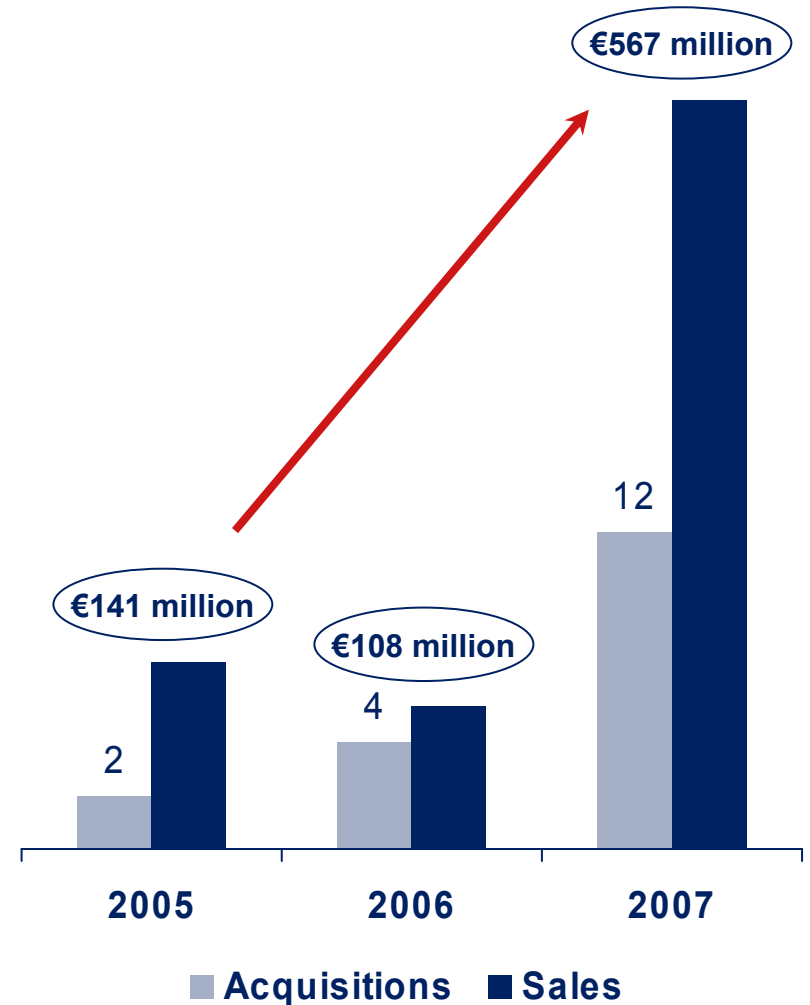

Continuous business optimization

- 1 Acquisitions driving market consolidation
- 2 Organic growth and expansion into new markets
- 3 STAR Program:
 - Purchasing
 - Distribution network

1 Accelerating number of acquisitions

Country	Acquired	Company	Sales
	Jan 2008	Multitube	€5 million
	2008 Ytd	1 acquisition	€5 million
	Sep 2007	Lehner & Tonossi	€9 million

	2007	12 acquisitions	€567 million
	2006	4 acquisitions	€108 million
	2005	2 acquisitions	€141 million

Strong acquisition criteria

Further acquisitions in core markets and Eastern Europe:

- Leverage existing structure in core markets with small- and mid-size bolt-on acquisitions
- Large scale acquisitions when appropriate
- Acquisitions in Eastern Europe to increase footprint

Focus on targets in 3 directions:

- Expansion of geographic reach
- Extension of customer base
- Extension of product portfolio

Focus on targets at attractive valuations:

- EV/EBITDA multiple between 4x and 5x for smaller acquisitions
- EV/EBITDA multiple between 5x and 6x for mid-size and large scale acquisitions

Focus on targets with significant synergy and scale effects:

- Stronger purchasing power
- Streamlining operations and processes, integrating IT
- Integration of STAR

Accretive growth

Efficient acquisition process

Approach

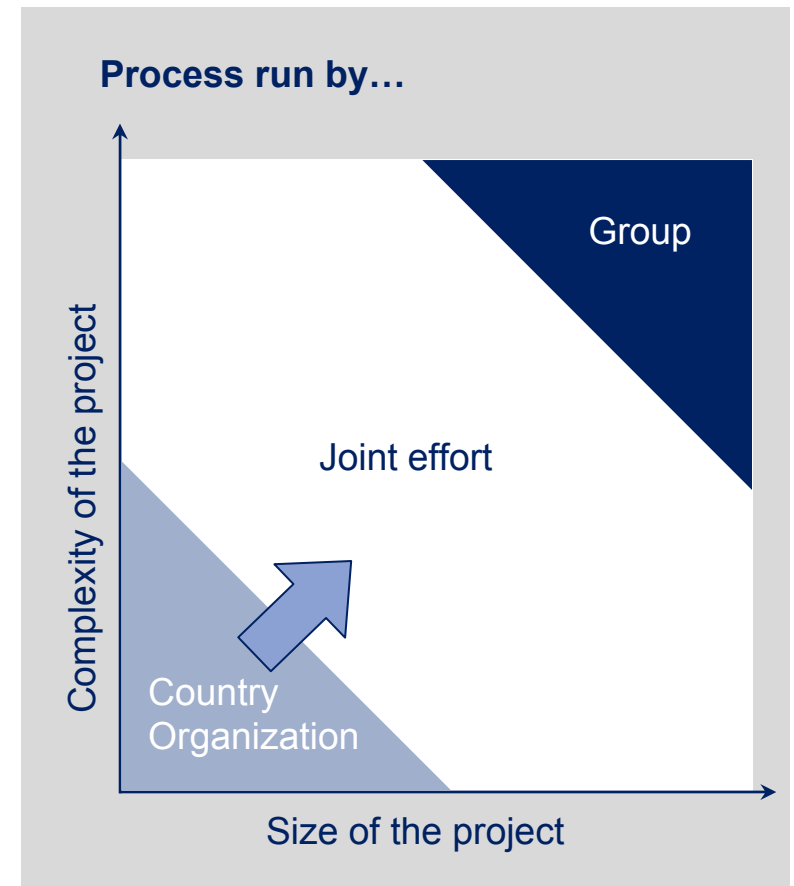

- Existing local contacts to competitors
- Pro-active contact via M&A advisors
- External contacts (seller, M&A advisors, banks, etc.)

Selection of acquisition targets

- Targets must fulfil acquisition criteria

Handling of acquisition projects

- Depending on size and complexity of the deal and experience of the country management the process is either run locally or led by the headquarters
- Duration of the projects between 3 to 6 months (first contact to completion)
- Due diligence is focussed on the areas of finance, sales/marketing, logistics/distribution/stocks, personnel and legal/tax/environmental

2 Organic growth and expansion into new markets

Status quo

Expanded businesses in Eastern Europe:

- Acquisition of Metalsnab in Bulgaria
- Organic growth through Greenfield approach, e.g. South of Poland and Romania
- Evaluation of market entry in other countries

Next steps

Expansion of strong market positions in core markets:

- Selective extension of product range
- Increase value-added services through investments in new processing capacity
- Further acquisitions and opening of new branches in Eastern Europe

Strategy

Leveraging existing distribution network

Benefits

Sustainable profitable growth

3 STAR: Status quo Q3/9M 2007 and next steps

Status quo

Purchasing

- Additional frame contracts with main suppliers
- Extended global sourcing for third party countries
- Implementation of new organization in Germany (January 1, 2007) almost completed
- Implementation of a software supporting sales and stock management

Distribution network

- Improved performance as a result of restructured distribution network (warehouses)
- Start of roll-out of the optimization tool “Prodacapo” (activity based costing) in Spain, UK, France and Eastern European Countries

Next steps

- Establish European sourcing (STAR Phase II)
- Increase sourcing from world-class suppliers with structural cost advantages
- Implement unified article codes
- Further structural measures and continuous improvement of distribution network supported by “Prodacapo” (with a focus on ES, F and UK) to increase average EBITDA margins and reduce NWC funding requirements
- Finalize implementation of SAP throughout the European organization (France, Switzerland) and interface SAP with “Prodacapo”

STAR: Phase I finalized in 2008, further potential in phase II

Phase I (2005 - 2008)

Steel cycle and EBITDA/cash flow relationship

Theoretical relationship*

*Assuming stable inventory volumes

Comments

- 1 Klöckner & Co buys and sells products at spot prices generally
- 2 Sales increase as a function of the steel price inflation environment
- 3 Cost of material are based on an average cost method for inventory and therefore lag the steel price increase
- 4 This time lag creates accounting windfall profits (windfall losses in a decreasing steel price environment) inflating (deflating) EBITDA
- 5 Assuming stable inventory volume cash flow is impacted by higher NWC needs
- 6 The windfall profits (losses) are mirrored by inventory book value increases (decreases)
